DID YOU KNOW?

When you feel stressed, your body produces more cortisol (primary stress hormone) which could lead to a higher oil production in your skin, clogged pores and blemishes.

* Stressed skin is skin that experiences of dryness or discomfort because of dehydration, with a loss of luminosity and a decline of the skin's overall appearance.

LET'S TALK CBD

There's a general misconception about CBD (cannabidiol). CBD is actually a great skincare ingredient and nope, it will not make you feel high!

Setting the record straight

The Cannabis plant has two species: Marijuana and Hemp. Both species have CBD and THC compounds. THC, unlike CBD, is a psychoactive cannabinoid (fancy way of saying it makes you feel high). While marijuana has a high percentage of THC and less CBD, hemp plants (aka what we use) contains close to no THC. CBD thereby give us all the great *stressed-skin relieving benefits, without the high!

SUITABLE FOR: All skin types.
(Cannabidiol use while pregnant or breastfeeding is not recommended)

DERMATOLOGICALLY TESTED
NON-COMEDOGENIC
